FORTUNA

ABOUT

Gulet Fortuna indeed has a fitting name as Fortuna was the goddess of fate and the personification of luck in Roman religion. Our Fortuna certainly looks like a goddess when sailing across the Adriatic, and she may well play her part in deciding your fate, but the luck you have already received just with having an honor of spending the week on her decks. The rear one has a beautiful space with a large table and surrounding sofa beautifully lit during the night and can be covered with the transparent awning. The front deck is the place to be when the tanning shop opens. Stretched on the mattresses or enjoying a cocktail on a sofa before you jump into the sea is what we were talking about before, sheer luck in the world of Gods. Just beware of Neptune from below! You can take cover inside the elegant and cozy salon with two-sided sitting, perfect for late night talks and board games. Later on, if you truly want to feel like a goddess, get in one of seven en-suite cabins below deck. 2 Master cabins, 2 Double-bedded and 2 Twin cabins are here to give you the comfort you deserve. Air conditioning and watermaker, which guarantees to avoid the crowded ports during high season, round up all the amenities on Fortuna. Everything is set for your arrival, Fortuna awaits you!
